

7RMD: Mr McDermott

Welcome to our Tutor Page. I've been at Coombe Dean for many years now and I'm sure you're going to enjoy it, it's a great School!

I am excited to be your tutor whilst you're here. That means I see you every day, answer all the questions you have (well, hopefully!) and make sure that you settle in as well as possible. If there's something you're not sure of, ask me. If you can't find something, ask me. If something doesn't seem right, just ask me! You get the idea.

I enjoy being active and outdoors and like most things connected to that. I ride my bike in and out of school most days - rain or shine. I also row in a gig boat and love to spend time on Dartmoor.

I teach science and think science is one of many great subject at school. You'll learn loads and get to do lots of exciting things in the lessons.

I was a civil engineer before becoming a teacher. I have three children - the youngest has just finished his GCSEs - so I really do have a good idea of where you are at in terms of your educational journey! I have two dogs (Captain and Beanie) and 6 chickens. Secondary school will feel a bit different to your Primary School, but thousands of people do it every year and you'll be fine.

I am looking forward to seeing you all in September
